He had just discharged his piece and while in the act of reloading. the powder ignited and the fire communicated with the powder in the flask which exploded in his hand burning him severely.

That Rooster-The distressed looking. bedraggled Rooster on exhibition in the last Messenger as the "Journal's Rooster," made his escape from this office the day after election, and lit on the Democratic roost over the way. His dilapidated appearance is owing to the rough treatment received from our patriotic "Eagles," who have picked his feathers and taken down his crest for the last six or seven years.

Mr. Thomas Gould has received an appointment as Second Lieutenant in the 21st Infantry, stationed at Cape St. Lucas, Lower California, and is ordered to report to Louisville, for examination on the 28th of this month. He will probably proceed directly to his regiment, from Louisville. He is an old soldier and will make a gallant and trusty officer.
